DIRECTORS NOTE

It's an old song.

It's a tale of a love from long ago.

Part of the magic of theatre is that we tell the same stories again and again and yet they remain relevant.

The story of Orpheus and Eurydice is familiar – one of the many pieces of ancient Greece that remain a part of our shared consciousness. But instead of just relying on that familiarity, Hadestown is a reimagining of the myth that makes it feel new and present and urgent.

It has been such a wonderful process to work with these amazing students as we have built this show – learning all the music (a through-song musical is no joke!), exploring the themes, working to find connection points to make it feel real and personal, and designing the sets, costumes, lighting, and sound. It's a testament both to the material and to the students that it has come together as the beautiful show you'll see tonight – and we couldn't be more proud.

It's a sad song.

But we'll keep singing it even so.

Enjoy the show.

Case Hamilton, Phaidra Atkinson, and Melissa Thorne

Melissa is also a long-time theatre kid and is so grateful for the opportunity to work closely with our amazing theatre department as music director! When she isn't making music, Melissa enjoys walking her cute dog Presley around Draper and hopes you'll say hi if you see them out and about. Thanks to my mom for teaching me all things music, to Syd for starting me on this crazy path, to Case for forcing me to be his friend, to Phaidra for sticking with me for all the adventures from day one here at CCHS, and to all my amazing students for making the hard work worth it! Keep singing!

She has been a stage manager, tech officer, and head lighting technician for 2 years now, and she has loved it! Through any tough times she's had, pointless arguments and endless YouTube videos, she's so glad she's gotten to work with so many wonderful people and has had such a great experience. She is so grateful for her mom and River the important people in her life that have supported her through it all, and she's so excited to move on to the next big challenge! Since Addams, Brayden has been working on the technical side of many of the school's productions and has been surprised at the variety of skills and knowledge that goes into every show. Through everything he's learned he would challenge anyone to try out what interests them, despite how bizarre they might find it. He would also like to thank the cast and crew for bringing their spirits that lighten the mood, and so much of their time and effort to make this great. The directors Ms. Atkinson, Ms. Thorne, and Mr Hamilton for all the immense work and late nights that they put into these shows. Lincoln would like to thank all of his fellow techies who've all put so much work into making the shows incredible also a special thanks to his mom who's always been helping as much as she can (even if it's a little unnecessary) he wouldn't be anywhere near where he is without her.

CREW WHO'S WHO

Jessi Rowse

Sound

Jessi has been doing tech since freshman year, painting many of the set pieces and signs, including Addams Family, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, Mary Poppins, and more! For her senior year, she is on sound crew for both Mary Poppins and Hadestown, and is planning on continuing doing sound after graduation. Jessi is so sad to see her classmates, directors, and most of all her school go. Although it can be tiring, tech week was always something she looked forward to and it was never a dull moment behind the scenes-- the laughter, fun, even the silence brought her a feeling of belongingness.

Lastly, Jessi wants to specifically show some appreciation for everything that she's learned from her tech teacher, Mr. Hamilton, who has been a big part of her life and has given her many opportunities because of his class alone, and has pushed her to become a technician she could never even dream of becoming.

Adam Henderson

Turn Table

Adam is really excited to be part of Hadestown! He's been involved in tech for four years here at CCHS and has loved every second of it. Some of the shows he has worked on include Spamalot, The Addams Family, Mamma Mia, Mary Poppins, and more. Being part of tech has given him the chance to build, problem solve, and work with some incredible people. He wants to give a huge thank you to the amazing performing arts teachers for all their support, guidance, and for pushing him to grow. He also wants to thank his family for always supporting him in everything that he does.

Crew Diederich

Head of House

Crew Diederich (Davey) is so excited to be part of Hades as a technician! Working behind the scenes has been such a rewarding experience, and he loves getting to help bring these productions to life. From building the sets to running the production, he's learned so much and grown his skills. Being part of the tech crew has shown him how important every role is in making a show come together. He's grateful for the opportunity to work with such a dedicated and talented team. He'd like to thank his amazing directors and every single technician for their support and friendship, and his family and friends for always encouraging him and cheering him on!

A member of the CCHS Performing Arts department for the past four years, Whitt has been part of Technical Theatre, c=Choir, and Drama Club. He would like to thank Ati, Case, and Mamma T for constantly pushing him to be his best and for making his high school experience so memorable. Following graduation, Whitt plans to enter the workforce while pursuing professional certifications in Rigging and Pyrotechnics.

Bryson Owens

Set Construction

Although Bryson has not been able to take part in Technical Theatre this year, he has loved being involved whenever, wherever he can. He has enjoyed every chance he's been given to contribute to the program in some way, accepting as many projects to work on as possible. He has welcomed every chance to assist in Technical Theatre as soon as it becomes a possibility. He is grateful that he was given the opportunity to learn and grow while working on so many different projects throughout his years in technical theatre classes, especially a fireplace-bed piece used in The Drowsy Chaperone. He's learned many amazing skills and built many great relationships through this program, for which he is especially grateful. Bryson will always remember his time as a technician for the theatre program here at Corner Canyon, and looks forward to his next steps in his life.
